Graduation Farewell

This time the graduation's ours;
This time we say goodbye
To friends and things we cherished here;
Where did the years go by?
To reach the End, and start a Beginning;
To know that we have grown;
To feel the warmth of Achievement
That is our very own;
To look ahead with head held high
And many aspirations;
To take with us a Knowledge that
Will be our Inspiration.

Presbyterian-St. Luke's Tells $11-Million Building Program

A 900-bed hospital, surrounded by a new-type diagnostic clinic and other medical buildings, will ultimately house the merged Presbyterian-St. Luke's hospital.

Plans for providing the merged hospitals with one of the most modern plants in the country were approved today by John P. Bent, president of the board.

The program, costing $11,000,000, will be completed by September.

Four steps will be taken immediately:

- 1 The six-story hospital pavilion now under construction just east of the 1700 block of W. Congress will be enlarged to 13 floors. It will be air-conditioned and will include parking facilities.
- 2 The present Presbyterian hospital will be entirely re-equipped. Together the buildings will provide 900 beds.

by the two hospitals separately. A new hospital kitchen and employee cafeteria will be added. An enlarged laundry already has been completed.

Other Plans Told

In addition, Bent announced that the hospital hopes by 1960 to add a new type of diagnostic office building.

aminations or perhaps need a room to rest in following treatment could be accommodated in such rooms for possibly $7.50 to $10," said Bent. "The charge for a hospital room would be more than $16."

Norman A. Brady, assistant director of Presbyterian, explained that industry will be invited to send executives or other employees to the clinic for regular physical examinations.

PLAN TO MERGE HOSPITALS OK'd
Presbyterian, St. Luke's Boards Approve

the general public and will treat ambulatory cases. The physical merger of the two hospitals will not take place before 1959. Meanwhile, St. Luke's will continue at its present location, 1419 S. Michigan.

Vote to Merge St. Luke's, Presbyterian

Set Building Program of 11 Millions

The consolidation of St. Luke's hospital and Presbyterian hospital into a new institution was approved yesterday by the boards of both hospitals.

The merger, it was reported, will entail a three year building program, costing 11 million dollars, to add facilities for a new Presbyterian-St. Luke's hospital.

Since the building funds of the two hospitals now amount to slightly more than 2 million dollars, a new board will find it necessary to conduct a campaign to raise 9 million dollars to finance the consolidation and expansion.

Bard Named Chairman

Ralph A. Bard Sr., president of the board of managers of Presbyterian hospital, was selected chairman of the consolidated board. John P. Bent, president of the new board.

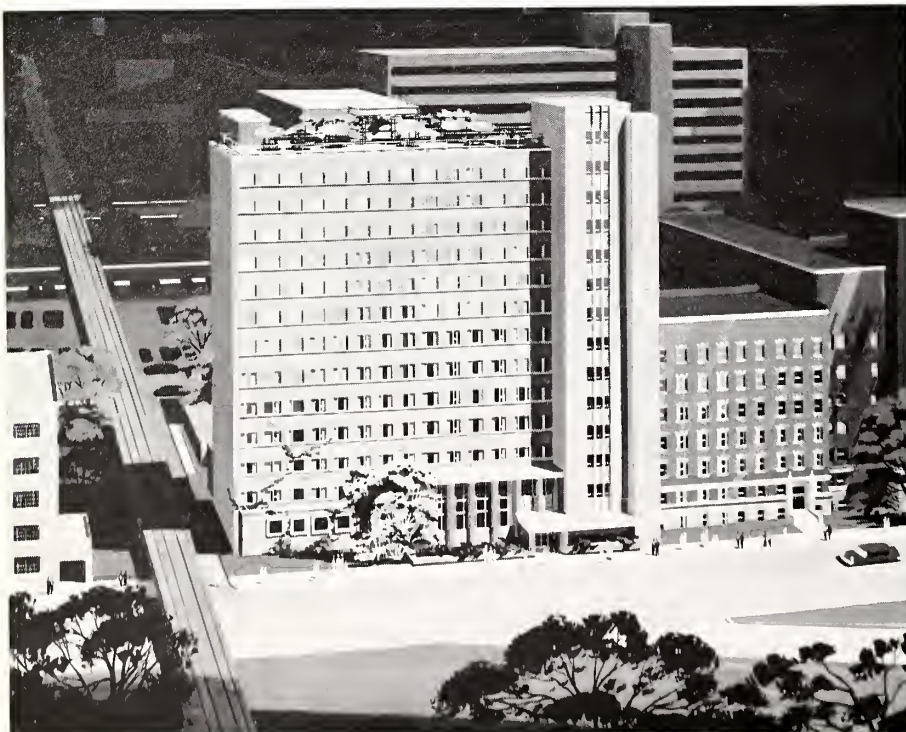

Two formalities must be completed in the next few days to effect the consolidation voted by the two boards. First, members of the two hospital corporations must approve the merger. Second, new articles of incorporation must be filed with and approved by the Illinois secretary of state.

The new hospital facilities will be built on the site of the present Presbyterian hospital, 1753 Congress st. It was announced that all facilities of St. Luke's would be used until the new building program is completed.

Boards Meet Separately

The two boards met separately in the Northern Trust company building at 50 S. La Salle st. to approve the merger. The first official step toward consolidating the two hospitals was taken Feb. 9 when both boards approved a resolution of "an intent to merge."

At that time, the boards said the purpose of the integration would be to combine "two eminent groups of doctors who, with a strong board, can provide Chicago and the midwest with one of the country's foremost voluntary teaching hospitals."

Father Travis' Farewell Message

ST. LUKE'S BLUE CROSS PRAYER

Most Merciful God, whose Blessed Son, Jesus Christ didst minister to the sick and the suffering, and didst also command His disciples to take up the cross and follow Him, grant to these Thy servants here present, and within St. Luke's Hospital, so to imitate Thy Son, that they may be loving and patient, sympathetic and faithful in all their ministrations to Thy sick servants; Support them in their work, shield them from temptation, help them to live in sympathy one with another, and at last bring them to their reward, through Jesus Christ, our Lord.

Farewell . . .

After over a quarter of a century as Rector of Grace Church, in its one hundred and five years of ministering in and near the "Loop" the time has come for me to relinquish the administration and guidance of this parish and hand over the helm to a younger man. This I do willingly, confident of the future of this Church as a downtown parish, and because I believe that fit choice will be made of the right priest and competent director of the destiny of this old parish.

The years I have laboured here have been years of depression, of wars, of prosperity, of all the hopes and fears that flesh is heir to, with all the multitudinous changes and chances of this mortal life. On the whole they have been good years. I have been reasonably happy in trying to minister to a parish scattered all over the city. A great happiness has been in serving St. Luke's Hospital (the daughter institution of Grace Church) and the School of Nursing, as a voluntary chaplain. On this vineyard of my ministry I could write a book. Some day I might.

I am thankful for the support, the cooperation, and the loyalty of members of Grace Church and St. Luke's Hospital. Most of all I am grateful for the friendships that have been formed during the years; friendships that have endured the storms and stresses of living and working together.

I cannot pull up all my roots from these two institutions; I would not if I could. Part of myself I shall leave here for weal or for woe.

To all with whom I have worked, to those I have helped, or tried to help, I say Good-bye. This is not a note of finality, but being interpreted means "God be with you."

Faithfully and sincerely yours
Wm. Turton Travis
